FEELS GREAT MAN

THE MAN, THE MYTH, THE LEGEND: $PEPERUNEY

WELCOME TO THE RUNEYVERSE.

From rugged to riches, The name's PepeRuney, the pizza-slingin', joint-tokin', all-in degen straight out of Matt Furie's Boys Club Multiverse. After getting burned by the Rug Lords and left for exit liquidity, I decided enough was enough. I hustled my way to the top, turning a dream into an empire. Now, I'm running the hottest pizza joint in the memeverse—a spot where the vibes are unmatched, the stakes are sky-high, and the dough is always rising. Your favorite memecoin's favorite memecoin is lining up to grab a slice of this action. Ready to roll with the REAL cheese?

THE LORE OF PEPERUNEY: RUGGED TO RICHES

I wasn't always PepeRuney, the pizza-slingin', all-in degen you see today. Nah, I was just another chill guy chasing that "generational wealth" dream, buying into every promise the Rug Devs sold me. They called it the moonshot, but all I got was a one-way trip to Exit Liquidity Land. Like so many of my bros, I got rugged—hard.

The wallets were empty, the vibes were crushed, and the dream felt dead. But you know what they say: "When life gives you dough, you bake it into an empire."

That's when I decided—no more scams, no more VCs hoarding the cheese, no more insider traders eating the whole pie while the rest of us fight over crumbs. The Rug Devs didn't just take my money; they took my pride, my belief in the hustle. But they underestimated one thing: you can't keep a real one down.

So, I got off my lazy, pizza-loving ass and started the grind. I opened PepeRuney's Pizza, cutting slices for the homies, building brick by brick, topping by topping. It wasn't all above board, though. You think empires are built playing nice? I took every opportunity I could—stacking $PEPERUNEY, arcade hustles, casino plays, even a little side action in the, uh, "special oregano" business.

But it wasn't just about me. This was bigger. I saw the same story on every block—good people getting wrecked by shady devs and greedy suits. The game was rigged, so I decided to rewrite the rules. Kick out the Rug Devs. Save the homies. Build OUR empire.

And that's how the SLICE CLUB was born—a crew of dreamers, hustlers, and degens who've all been burned but refuse to stay down. We're not just building an empire; we're building a movement. If you've ever been rugged, if you've ever been dumped on, if you've ever been someone's exit liquidity, if you've ever felt like the dream was slipping away—THIS is your chance to flip the script.

OUR ENEMIES? THEY'RE CLEAR:

- Rug Devs: The ones who overpromise and underdeliver.
- Greedy VCs: The suits who treat us like pawns in their game.
- Insider Traders: The snakes who cash out before the rest of us even get a bite.

OUR MISSION? EVEN CLEARER:

- Take back control.
- Stack gains.
- Have fun doing it.

The SLICE CLUB isn't just a community; it's a mindset. We speak the language of memes, pizza, and vibes. We rally around the thrill of the hustle and the sting of shared losses. We turn those losses into fire, and that fire into action.

So, if you're ready to go ALL-IN, if you're ready to kick Rug Devs to the curb and build something real, if you're ready to make the memeverse remember your name, then welcome to the SLICE CLUB.

Together, we'll stack dough, crush enemies, and build the ultimate pizza-powered empire.

HUMBLE BEGINNINGS

Let me tell you, I wasn't always on top. Rug-pulling devs and fat-cat VCs—chasing their “generational wealth” at the expense of guys like us—left me broke, wrecked, and just another piece of EXIT LIQUIDITY. I was down bad, watching my dreams crumble like stale crust.
